Boro Board Considers Recreational Plan

The Warren Borough School Board met Monday evening and gave conditional approval to the Warren Recreation Board's proposal whereby the school and Borough Council would jointly furnish supervision of the community's ice rink, tennis courts and the Youth Canteen.

A committee consisting of Dr. Arthur O'Connor and board solicitor R. Pierson Eaton was named to work out further details of such a program which would cost the board approximately $500 a year. Action by council is yet to be taken.

The initial cost of such a program as proposed by the Recreation Board would cost about $2820 a year, but state reimbursement would lower this figure to around $970.

An immediate step was taken to approve Fred Bell, Paul Meyers, Phyllis Putnam, Jane Masters, Eugene Williams and Harold Miller as supervisors at the rink.

The board accepted the resignation of Charles Frantz, treasurer of the board who had served for five years. A successor to fill out his unexpired term will be named.

A five year lease allowing the county commissioners to use five schools as voting polls was also approved. The locations are Jefferson, Lacy, McClintock, South Street, and Home (when needed).

It was reported that the state had reimbursed $538 for the October milk program and $452 for the month of November. Payments approved were $192, special services; $494, substitute teachers; $135, janitors' overtime; $2,073, orders for the month. The finance committee was given the go ahead sign to pay bills amounting to $33,751, $30,000 of which goes to the joint committee for use of the junior and senior high schools.

The monthly milk fund report in the elementary grades indicated a loss of $31 for the period. In other business the board approved the request of the county board to use South Street building for a special class in Warren, accepted the resignation of the superintendent's secretary, Miss Mary Hutchings, and gave permission for Supt. Carl E. Whipple to attend the advisory committee meeting of the state council on January 17-18.

OVER THREE HUNDRED turned out for the annual Twelfth Night ceremonies on Beaty field. The huge pile of Christmas trees that so recently put a glow within so many homes lighted up the large circle of girls who participated in the activity.

REIGN OVER 12th NIGHT. King Vickie Hammerbeck and Queen Nancy Reed reigned over 12th Night ceremonies conducted by the Girl Scouts in Warren Tuesday evening. They are pictured being crowned by Burgess William E. Rice following their selection.

BOARD ACTION. The Dragons' Bill Dahl (No. 20) is caught in action as he goes up for a rebound under the Warren boards during Friday night's fracas with Meadville.

The Bulldogs won the Section Two opener 74 to 63 and snapped the Massamen's streak at six.

POPULAR. Cold weather finally arrived in Warren and in no time the young and old alike had the ice skates out of the moth balls. Then it was off to the Beaty ice rink for a good time.

This picture typifies the huge crowds that have enjoyed this winter sport when skating is available.

Kane Methodist church. They have nine children -- Viola, Merle, Lorraine, Hazel, Marvil, Monroe, Lloyd, Henry, and Paul -- 25 grandchildren, and 13 great-grandchildren. They have lived for the past nine years near Russell and before that were residents of Westline, Pa. Mrs. Carl Bemis, at whose home the affair was held, is the Passingers' daughter, Hazel.

NORTHERN AREA players enjoyed the hospitality of Youngsville cheerleaders following their defeat to the Eagles last Friday evening. A fine gesture performed by the host school.

HIGH STEPS AND HIGH JINKS were all to no avail as the Youngsville Jayvees smothered the Northern Area Jayvees 37 to 22. It was, however, a wildly enthusiastic crowd which came from the Northern Area townships to help overcrowd the 700-seat capacity of the Youngsville gymnasium. THE ANSWER

The problems of the world do not change very much, and a look into the future reveals they promise to be even more acute unless we prepare for them. Feeding, clothing, housing, and keeping well the people of this earth have been the material enigmas for many centuries. They face us today, and will face us tomorrow.

There are people starving in various portions of the globe this year. We have more food than we can eat in our nation. Another goes hungry.

The world lacks homes for its people. Even in a prosperous United States we lack adequate housing.

There are millions with bare feet, inadequately covered bodies, sick from exposure to the elements. While many of our families have two cars under them, there are millions in many corners of the world with no soles on their shoes.

We spend billions on research, and we are gaining on disease. We have modern hospitals and specialists who are performing surgical feats that are saving the lives of those who once would have been without hope. But we have millions who are dying from nothing more serious than unsanitary conditions.

Our homes are loaded with tv sets for our entertainment, and a major share of those programs are made possible by millions spent to sell soap. Yet millions die around the globe because of one simple problem. They are dirty!

If war does not set us back, our living conditions will improve. We will have more cars, better food, our life expectancy will increase as we find new answers to good health.

But even as it gets better, it will be getting worse. We will have more people to feed and less land on which to feed them. The backward areas may not catch up fast enough to be of any assistance to the "cultured" sections of the earth. They might even over-run them if hunger presses.

But there is a simple material answer to our problems. It is a word that seems to frighten us these days, as we clutch our pocketbooks for fear someone will suggest we spend another dime for a pint of milk in the cafeteria or to make part of the payment on a suitable textbook. It is education!

Educate the world and it won't go hungry. It will not live in slums. It will not go naked. It will find an answer to its physical ills. It will be clean and sanitary.

Educate all our people and you will have more good brains to find the technical answers. You will have more scientists, more doctors, more experts.

The vast majority of people who live in slums or run-down homes are those who are untrained. Among them are a few who had opportunities for the best, and maybe went through college, but they are exceptions. The men and women who have had the advantages of advanced schooling will not settle for shacks in which to raise their families.

The portion of our population which is not adequately educated consists of many minds which could be of great value in our society. Too many minds of quality spend a life-time doing third or fourth-rate work. With the right training they would contribute much to our society. The loss is the community's.

The well educated are very apt to have adequate food in the larder, warm clothing on the family, and soap to go with the plumbing.

The right education system would find a place for all. Those qualified to be chemists would be chemists, and those suited to be engineers would be given such an opportunity. And those on whom a college education would be wasted would be provided with sufficient liberal arts and special training to fit them into the many non-professional jobs that would be available.

This may sound trite and basic. And it is! The trouble is we aren't doing it. The fact is we have too many fogies of the old school who have trouble seeing today's needs and are hopelessly lost when it comes to envisioning tomorrow's. And they sit in places that have much to do with allocating funds and deciding educational policies.

Tomorrow's food problem will be solved by the chemist. The soil will yield more and foods will be better. Technical skills will find many ways of licking the housing situation.

There will be no slums.

We will find the answer to disease. We certainly will be clean.

And if we are crowded, that small satellite we are creating this year as an experiment may be the first step toward a new kind of pioneering. Life in space, or on another planet!

Educational progress is the material answer. The one that may throw us may be the moral puzzle.

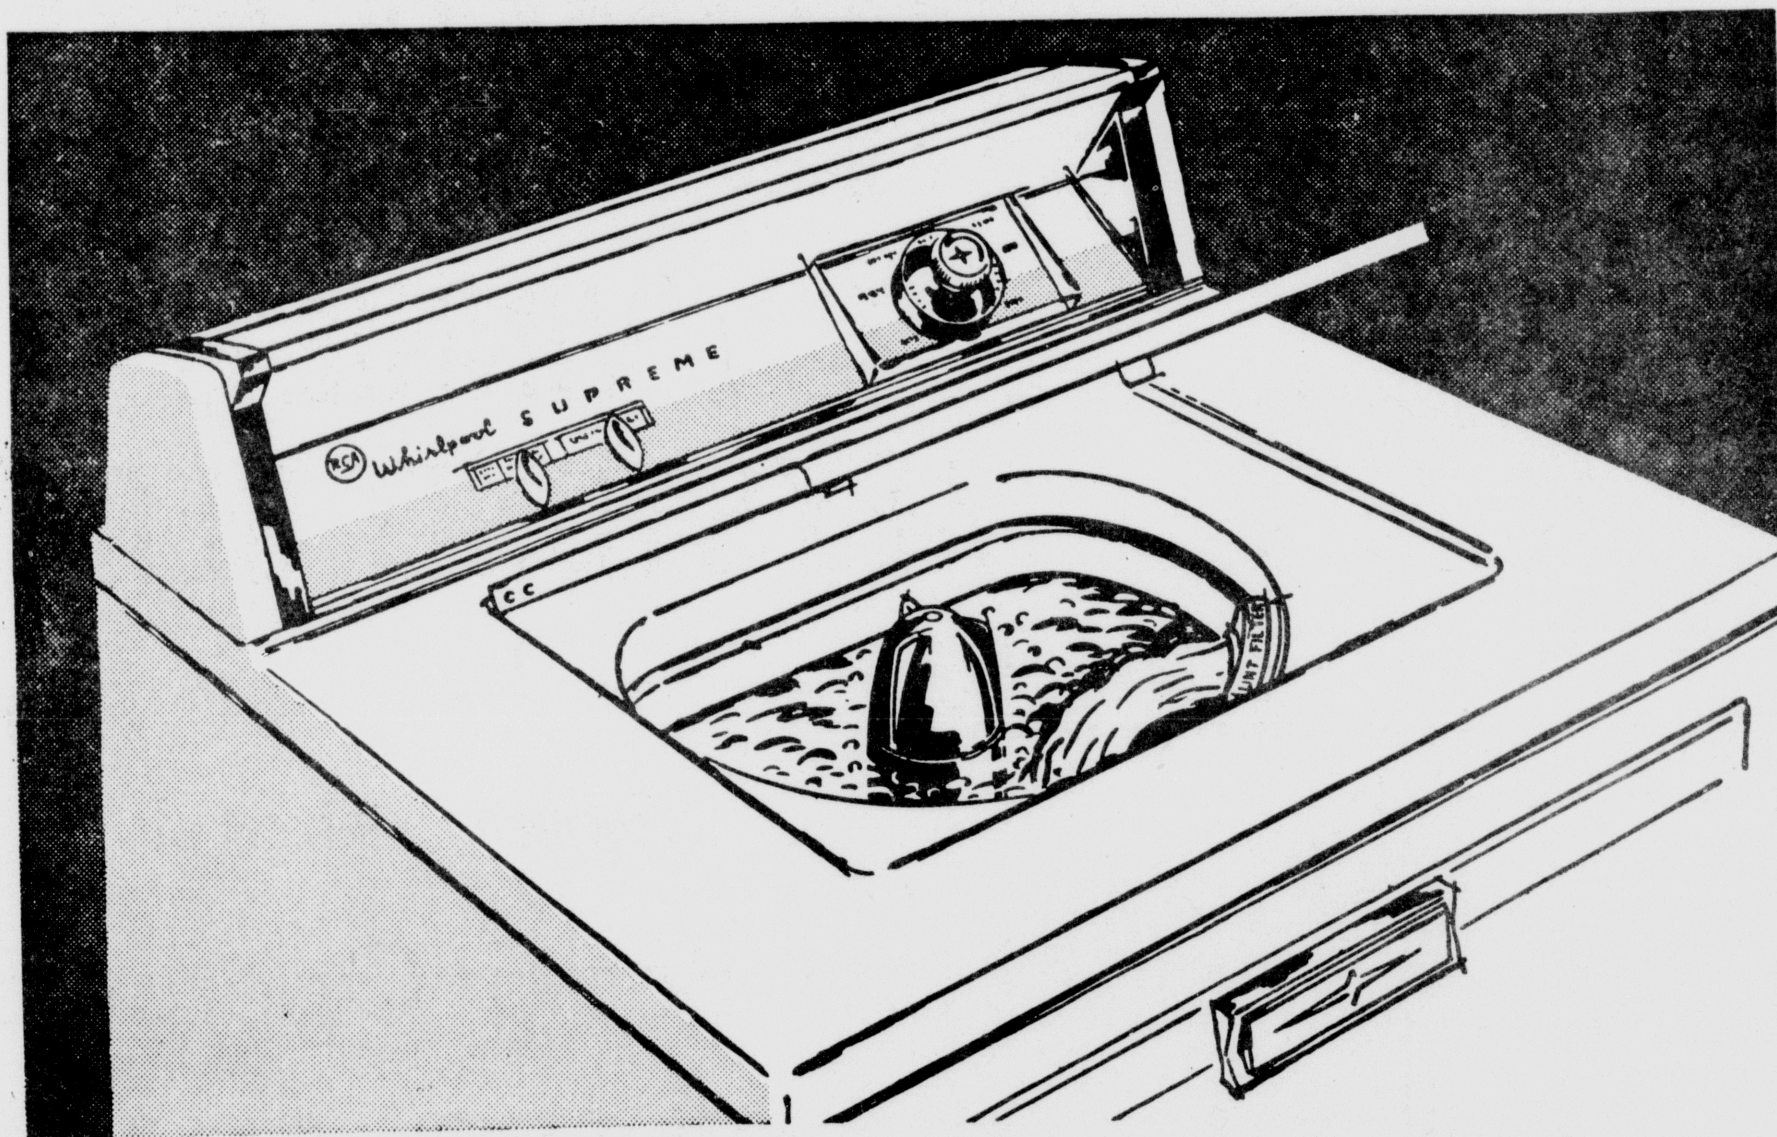

If we don't learn to live together there won't be anyone left to have a problem. Or at most a few of us can start over again.

So why all this concern about a few dollars? Let's have an educational system that will at least provide part of the answer. Maybe the moral side of it will make more sense if we are sufficiently brightened.

YES, BUT FUN From the looks of the winter garb these North Warren youngsters are wearing, they haven't been on their feet all the time. But they were sure having fun on the rink provided by the State Hospital.

Children's Home Has Biggest Christmas Ever

Thanks to the many kindnesses of Warren organizations and individuals, it was a "merry" Christmas for the youngsters of Hoffman Children's Home.

Mrs. Adda Logan, supervisor, stated she believed it was the biggest holiday ever for the children, and was very grateful for all the kind deeds.

All of the youngsters wrote letters to Santa Claus and in return each member of the Rotary Club selected a child to give a gift. The Young Mothers Club filled stockings for each, and from Sylvania Lodge 993 came a pair of slipper socks for every child, two radios, and some records for the player the group gave a year ago.

The Warren merchants were generous when solicited by Tony Tomassoni for gifts that went to the home. Members of the 40 et 8 showed movies, played games with prizes, served refreshments, and gave each boy and girl a dollar. More gifts came from a circle of the Presbyterian Church and the K. of C. gave oranges and candy.

Two citizens had dollar bills for the youngsters, so they had a total of $3 spending money, much of this being used to buy gifts for others. Girl Scout troop 106 of North Warren brought in a small tree decorated with combs for everyone. The Shakespearean Club, and Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Silzle contributed large trees, and from Walkers Creamery at Christmas came ice cream.

Entertainment was provided by the Barbershoppers, who also gave gifts, and the Warren Boys' Choir. And so the children had cards to send, Mrs. Irene Reynolds saw to it they were provided.

As a post New Year's event the Hi-Y Club went to the home, played games with the children and served a treat. Of course there were also many other individuals who did their bit to make it a "happy" Christmas at Hoffman home.

MISS NORMA SPONSLER

A Warren high school senior, Miss Norma Sponsler, has received word that she will receive the State Homemaker's degree. It will be formally presented at the Pennsylvania FHA forum in Harrisburg on January 16.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Sponsler, 25 Orchard st., Warren, she has been active in FHA in her three years as a member. Currently state treasurer of the organization, last year she was a delegate to the National convention and served as an officer in both the county and region groups.

Norma has already received her chapter and junior homemaker degrees to qualify her for the state honor. Her various other school activities also played a role in her new achievement.

SOMETHING NEW has been added at the Beatty ice rink this year, and not to the discomfort of anyone. It is the long shelter partially pic-

The shelter, along with the welcome fire, gives the youngsters and adults a dry place to change and a good spot to get warm on that chilly, chilly day.

EVERYONE has a good time participating in the new sporting activity offered North Warrenites this season.

The new ice skating facility was made available by the State Hospital when officials flooded and lighted the three tennis courts on the grounds.

KEYSTONE AWARD. William B. Lyon, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Lyon, R. D. 2, Russell, and a student at Northern Area high school, was named county winner of the Keystone Farmer degree of the Future Farmers of America.

In recognition of his outstanding work in vocational agriculture and FFA, the young man was presented a $25 check Tuesday by the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce.

Taking part in the presentation Tuesday were (l. to r.) seated -- Joseph G. Soper, vocational agriculture instructor at Northern Area;

William Cannon, of the Chamber agriculture committee; and young Lyon; standing -- Neil Culbertson, Chamber president; T. R. Sponsler, county vocational advisor; and Charles Tranter, Chamber executive secretary.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK COSMANO

The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cosmano, 707-1/2 Pennsylvania ave., E., Warren, was observed Sunday at a party held in their honor by a nephew, Paul Coppola, and his wife. Mr. and Mrs. Cosmano were married on January 6, 1907, in Buffalo, N. Y.

ASIDES

BANKRUPTCY HAS COME to Seamaster Division of Jafco Marine, Inc., which built boats in Sheffield up until a few months ago. Creditors are being asked to make their claims in the United States court house, in Erie, on January 18, at 10:30 a.m. ***

HELP FOR TAXPAYERS is promised by the Internal Revenue Service, if they will call the Warren office in the post office. The room is 203A. Best days are Monday and Friday, from 8:30 to 4:30. The telephone number is 1199. ***

Again the self-help idea is being stressed. You are urged to do it yourself, at least as far as you can go. A call to the office may straighten you out at puzzling points.

This year a simplified card form, 1040A, is available, and is more easily processed. It is limited to use by those who earn less than $5,000 and have allowable deductions less than the standard 10 per cent. ***

TALES OF ALL KINDS are rumored about social security funds, such as the claim that they go into the general fund. Last year the social security trust fund was paid $6.6 billion. All of this was not paid in by you. Interest amounted to $525,000,000. This interest came from social security money invested in government securities.

Benefit payments for the twelve months totaled $5.7 billion. Administration cost $133,000,000. This means that $800,000,000 was received that was not used for current benefits and was placed in the trust fund, interest from which will assure future benefit payments.

This trust fund now has total assets of $22.5 billion!

The monthly payment of benefits runs about like this: five million retired workers receive $325 million, a million and a half wives and husbands are paid $48 million, widows and parents of deceased workers get $47 million, and widowed mothers and children, over a million and a half of them, receive $65 million.

The extra quarter of one per cent which was added to your social security deduction this year will be used for added benefits for disabled workers between the ages of 50 and 65. If you are in this age span and are disabled you should check the law. In fact, if you have not reached 50 and are disabled, it is wise to check it also. You should have your social security earnings record frozen to protect future benefits. If you wait until after June 30 of this year to apply for such benefits or to have your earnings record frozen you may lose your rights.

This sounds mighty silly to us. Any kind of a system at all should be there to prove your rights no matter when you ask for help, but that is the letter of the law. Act accordingly! ***

ON THE COMMITTEE which is planning a conference of 300 lay and educational leaders of six North-western Pennsylvania counties at Edinboro State Teachers College early in February is Ernest Miller, of North Warren. The committee met recently with several educators, including Carl Whipple, Warren and Warren area superintendent.

A quota has been set for each county with two lay persons for each professional educator to be invited. Warren's quota is 35.

The conference is after answers to grass roots problems, ranging from How to Finance Our Schools to How to Obtain Proper Teachers. The conference is to be operated in a manner like the recent White House Conference in Washington. From it may come ideas for legislation which can be recommended. ***

WORTH SAVING is a series that is running in the Christian Science Monitor. It concerns the Teachings of Jesus and Present Day Application. It started in the December 31 edition and is published once a week. ***

IT WOULD BE NICE if the do it yourself idea were to become popular with the ladies. Imagine home-made bread doing a come-back! ***

ANOTHER DOCTOR will open an office soon in Warren. Already well known here, he will be open for business in February. ***

PEOPLE WHO MAIL calendars in cylinders to gain the goodwill of potential customers would be much more successful if they would include directions on how to remove the calendars. Or isn't there a way? ***

A BENEFIT BALL for the Hungarians is planned by the Warren K. of C. It will be held about February 9. ***

GOLF TALK is being made at the CVCC this evening. Next summer's golf committee is preparing for a competitive season. An effort may be made to have at least one quadrangular match, probably at Warren, with Oil City, Jamestown, and Titusville participating.

WINTER OFFENSIVE AHEAD!

Are your water pipes prepared to meet a sudden attack of wintry blasts?

Cold weather is sure to come and a sudden drop in temperature will cause unprotected water pipes to burst. You will then be without running water. And repairs may take several days due to scarcity of plumbers and critical materials.

Prepare now for a surprise cold weather attack:

- Wrap exposed water pipes and meter with old newspapers, rags or burlap.
- Make your basement air tight. Repair broken window panes. Stuff cracks in walls, around windows and around doors which admit cold air.
- Select now the faucet you plan to open slightly during extremely cold nights. (One located highest in your house is best.) Then determine the right size stream—a quart a minute will be enough.

If you need advice about protecting your water pipes and plumbing, we shall be glad to help you in any way that we can. Sorry we can't send a representative—manpower shortage has hit us too!

DR. ELMER HESS

Principal speaker at the annual Jaycee Bosses' Night banquet on January 24 will be Dr. Elmer Hess, 1955 president of the American Medical association and head of the Urology department at Erie's St. Vincent's Hospital. He is nationally known as an advisor to President Eisenhower.

The Erie doctor recently completed an inspection tour of the Middle East and his report concerning conditions there will provide much interesting subject matter for his banquet address.

Another high point in the Bosses' Night program will be the announcement of the recipient of the Distinguished Service Award, which is being presented for the first time by the Jaycees to a young man in the area who has been an outstanding contributor to the welfare of the community.

MRS. ARALAINE W. ANDERSON

Byron L. Swanson, director of the Warren Conservatory of Music, has announced the appointment of Mrs. Aralaine Wagstaff Anderson to the piano faculty of the conservatory. She will specialize in beginning and elementary students.

Mrs. Anderson, who has a fine background in music, received her Bachelor of Science degree in music education from Indian State and her masters degree from the University of Michigan.

Baptist Church Suffers Heavy In Sunday Fire

A fire broke out in the Calvary Baptist Church in Warren about 3:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon and caused damages estimated at $20,000.

Flames ripped through the wooden partitions of the structure, which was erected in 1867, and reached all the way up to the steeple. Warren firemen battled the blaze for two hours.

CONFERENCE PLAY

Basketball league play opened with the New Year in the area last Friday night and highlighting the contests played was Meadville's impressive 74-63 triumph over unbeaten Warren in the Section Two conference.

Elsewhere in the circuit, Chuck Snell blazed for 34 points to lead Franklin to a 73-31 victory against Titusville. It was the Knights' eighth straight. Corry and Oil City were more evenly matched with the Beavers coming out on top 63-59.

The Upper Allegheny Valley loop had Youngsville scoring its initial win of the season by upending favored Northern Area 59 to 53, Pleasantville scorched Tidioute by 52-44, and West Forest of Tionesta clipped East Forest of Marienville 61-44.

Up in the Allegheny Mountain league the defending champion Sheffield five nosed out Emporium 56-52 in the only curtain raiser slated on Friday. Tuesday night St. Marys clipped Johnsonburg 66-53 in the second loop tilt of the season.

AREA CAGE SCORES

Section Two teams were playing independently Tuesday night and all emerged victorious. Warren beat Sheffield 61-47, Corry trimmed Youngsville 47-33, Franklin tripped Rocky Grove 72-66, Meadville romped Erie East 79-63 and Oil City walked over Cranberry 63-56.

Other results Tuesday were Vincent 79, McDowell 56; Prep 58, Harborcreek 45; Kane 51, Bradford 49; Grove City 38, Sharpsville 34; West Middlesex 59, Greenville 44; Sharon 61, Beaver Falls 37; New Castle 68, Ambridge 42; Northern Area 43, Cassadage Valley 41.

Last Friday night in Class A play out of District 9 it was Bradford over Punxsutawney 69-54, with Bob Jones and Jerry Scott teaming up for 43 of the Owls' points. Kane clubbed Curwensville 62-30 and DuBois slapped a 56-42 defeat on Clearfield. Joe Simbeck continued to hit in the 20 bracket for DuBois by racking up 28 counters.

In other sectors Johnsonburg broke a seven-game losing streak by knocking off Smethport 37-33, Otto Twp. beat Ridgway 48-43, and St. Marys downed Port Allegany 51-43.

Other scores: Fredonia 48, Greenville 44; Farrell 66, New Castle 47; Sharon 69, Ambridge 38; Mercer 73, Rocky Grove 47; Grove City 60, Hickory 46; Jamestown 54, Gowanda 47; Erie Vincent 92, Tech 59; Prep 79, Academy 26; East 63, Harborcreek 47.

DEFEATED IN OPENER

Warren's unbeaten Dragon floor-men were knocked down at Beaty court Friday night when a strong Meadville varsity five came here and chalked up a 74-63 win. It was the Bulldogs 36th consecutive Section Two victory as conference play made its debut.

The visitors jumped off to an early 17-9 first quarter advantage and by the half time had accumulated a 40-25 lead. Coach Joe Mas-sa's quintet charged back after the rest by outscoring Meadville 24-16 in the third and then fell off to defeat.

Evans was the big gun for the Dogs when he hit the hoop 12 times from outside and added one foul throw for a high 25. For Warren it was Ed Rickerson and his 21 that stood out on the scoreboard.

Tomorrow night the Dragons face unbeaten Franklin in a circuit match and then play independently at Bradford on Tuesday.

Y-CITY LOOP PLAY

A couple of contests were featured in the Y-City league Monday night with the K. of C. defeating Bovas 67 to 55 and Emerson downing Guiffres 67 to 57.

Scalise burned the nets for 24 to pace the Knights triumph and take the night's honors, while Sturdevant was runner-up for Guiffres with 22. Lundahl hit for 18 to lead the winning Emerson five.

J.R. HIGH WINS OPENER

Coach Bob Fey and his Beaty Junior high cagers walked off with a 41-37 victory over Jamestown's Lincoln high Tuesday to open the campaign on the right foot.

The local defending champions had a slow start but found themselves in the second period and rolled from there. Fowler and White combined their scoring efforts and came up with 22 points to guide the junior dribblers.

GRAPPLERS LOSE SECOND

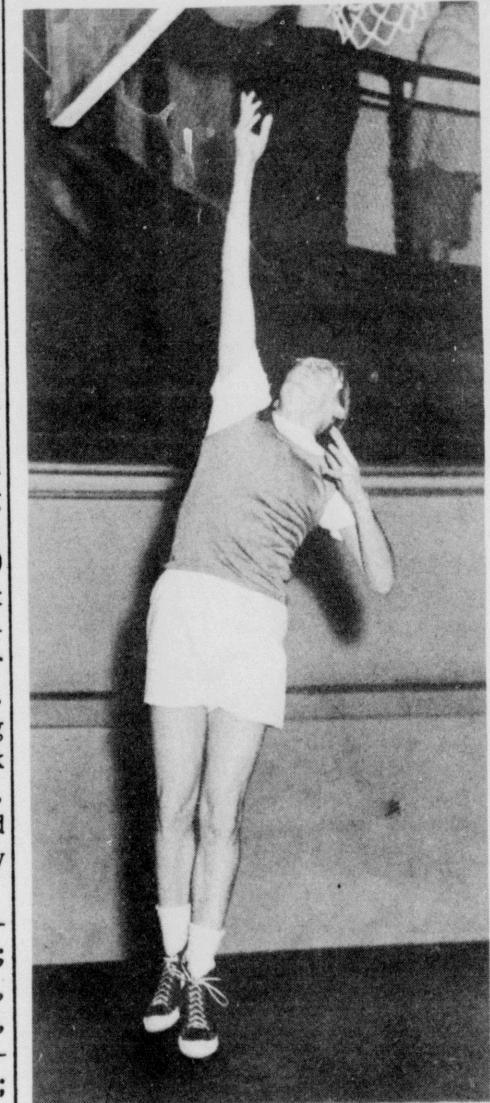

Warren high's matmen dropped their second of the season to Titusville last Thursday, bringing home the short side of a 22-17 score.

Victors for the locals were Larry Campbell, Bill Cummings, Bruce Trevenen, Harry Brooker and Ron Bowen. Coach Harold Miller lacked strength when a pair of top performers in Mickey Kondak and Don Brian could not contend.

The Dragon grapplers will attempt to better their 2-2 record when they entertain Oil City on the Beaty mats at 7:30 tonight (Thursday). A squad of 10 returning lettermen is being presented by the Hilltoppers this year.

HIT "100" MARK

Dick Christensen and Lou Hartweg burned the cords for 22 points

HIGH SCORER for the Emerson quintet in its 67-57 victory over Guiffres in the Y-City league Monday night was Ken Lundahl. He is caught here dumping a pair of his 18 counters.

each Saturday night as the Style Shop overpowered Jamestown's Marlin-Rockwell, 101 to 46, on the State Hospital hardwood.

DRAGONS DUMP SHEFFIELD

In a non-league fracas at Beaty court Tuesday night the Warren high cagemen whipped the Sheffield Wolverines 61 to 47.

It was even ball for the first half and then the Blue and White, behind the 25-point scoring of Ed Rickerson, surged ahead to a successful ending.

COACH RESIGNING

The resignation of Fred Bell from the Warren high football coaching post will be formally acted upon at the Joint Committee meeting of the Warren Area School Board next Monday. His letter of resignation was submitted shortly after the close of the 1956 campaign.

While Mr. Bell has decided to step out of his coaching career in Warren, he has stated he will continue here in the role of a teacher on the high school faculty.

The mentor, who fielded an undefeated team in 1955, came to Warren from Bellefonte five years ago. During this period his teams won 31 contests against a loss record of 15. The 1956 record was 6 and 4.

While no action has yet been taken, it is likely that the choice of his successor will bring the "T" formation to the local gridiron. And this would be something strange to Warren after a history of the single wing.

ICE RINK SCHEDULE

The hours for skating on the Beaty ice rink have been released as follows: Monday through Friday, 3:30 to 5:30 and 6:30 to 10:30; Saturday and Sunday, 1:30 to 5:30 and 6:30 to 10:30; and Saturday morning, 10:20. All hours, of course, depend on the condition of the ice.

Figure skating instruction will be given girls of junior and senior high age at 4:00 Thursday afternoon by Jane Masters. Boys will be instructed at 10:00 Saturday morning.

CHURCH ENTERS CENSORSHIP BATTLE OVER MOVIES

The constant dispute over censorship of all kinds which plays a major part in making democracy work has moved into the publicity spot light the last few weeks due to the movie, Baby Doll. The American Civil Liberties Union, which is composed of many leading citizens, works constantly at the job of protecting basic liberties. Its report on the current dispute is interesting. It reads:

"Leading Protestant and Catholic churchmen were engaged in a dispute last week over the showing of the controversial film 'Baby Doll,' and the alleged suppression by a Chicago TV station of the movie, 'Martin Luther.'"

"The 'Baby Doll' clash arose when Cardinal Spellman, in an unusual personal appearance in the pulpit, warned Roman Catholics against seeing the film under penalty of committing a sin. The motion picture, which depicts life in a Mississippi area, concerns a young girl who is married to a man twice her age and becomes involved with a younger man. It had been placed in the 'condemned' category by the Catholic reviewing organization, the Legion of Decency, which termed it 'morally repellant both in theme and treatment.' In his statement, Cardinal Spellman said it was 'astonishing and deplorable' that such an 'immoral' film had been certified for public exhibition. It has received the seal of approval from the film industry's own Production Code Office and passed the New York State censor."

"Cardinal Spellman's position was contested by the Very Rev. James A. Pike, Dean of the Protestant Episcopal Cathedral in New York City. Dean Pike, while defending the right of Cardinal Spellman to establish rules of conduct for his own church members, scored asserted attempts of 'minority groups' to impose their will on the community. Taking up Cardinal Spellman's comment that in opposing the film he was acting as a loyal citizen in defense of America, Dean Pike said that 'suppression of free expression of ideas, free description of a real situation in a land,' was characteristic of Communism. 'The true patriot,' he continued, 'defends freedom against governmental authority and against majority or minority pressure groups, against volunteers in the cause of thought control.'"

"The controversy assumed international proportions when the Rev. John A. Burke, ecclesiastical director of Britain's Roman Catholic Film Institute, said that he could 'see no reason why adult Catholics should not see' the film. The Institute is the British equivalent of the Legion of Decency in the United States. Father Burke said 'Baby Doll' was 'a brilliant piece of work on a decadent subject,' but that it 'obviously was not the sort of thing for thoughtless people'."

"While the prelates discussed the moral qualities of the film, there was no sign that local movie exhibitors were withdrawing the picture from public showing. Despite threats of financial pressure from the Catholic War Veterans, there has been no picketing of the film in New York City. Warner Brothers, national distributors of the picture, report that local showings are going ahead as scheduled, and officials opined that local reaction would be governed by the film's box-office success in New York. It was reported that the picture was doing excellent business at New York City's Victoria Theatre."

"The American Civil Liberties Union is watching the situation carefully and is ready to intervene if censorship threatens. It has repeatedly stated it defends the right of a church or any other group to advise its own members not to see a particular film, but it also urges local exhibitors not to bow to pressures to withdraw the film and to allow the public to see it."

"The TV controversy in Chicago concerned the last-minute ban on the showing of 'Martin Luther,' on station WGN-TV, operated by the Chicago Tribune. Pressure from Catholic Church officials allegedly caused the cancellation, but this was denied by Msgr. E. M. Burke, chancellor of the Chicago archdiocese. Strong protests were made by Protestant leaders, including one call for a federal investigation of the ban, and the ACLU's Illinois Division. The ACLU affiliate said: The wave lengths belong to the people and this means all the people. They are licensed to private corporations to be used in the public interest. Anyone has a right to protest a presentation, to refrain from viewing it, and to attempt to persuade others not to see it. But it is obnoxious to freedom of communication, on which our democratic system rests, to have any group seek to impose a general censorship on material of which it disapproves according to the special standards of that group... The issue is censorship, not the merits of this particular picture. A station which opens itself to coercion by special interest groups abdicates its responsibility to operate the station in the public interest."

EVOLUTION

The evolution of a basketball team may have been seen on Beaty court last Friday. The game could be the picture of a league season.

Up to Friday the Dragons were undefeated, but up to Friday they had met nothing much in the way of competition. They went into the game with an obvious lack of confidence, played a half of confused, muddled ball, then came out and let themselves go. They should have learned enough to make them a hustling team the rest of the year. Meadville has a big powerful team. It looked fast the first half because it put on the pressure and out-rushed the Warren boys. The Dragons had trouble getting the ball up the court, and looked slow and amateurish because of their inability to fathom the attack which was on top of them every second. The half ended, 40 to 25 for Meadville, a discouraging margin.

The second half the Warren speedsters turned on their steam. And once they gained the confidence of out-hawking their opponents it became a real scramble. You could see the confidence oozing back in, and if the margin had not been quite so great they might have made it. The game ended, 74 to 63. Many times the boys closed it to six points, but in the modern game, with its easy scoring pattern, they were unable to quite tie it up.

In Brief

OPINION TODAY. Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr., has set 1 o'clock this afternoon for the time when he will hand down his opinion on the motion for a new trial for Norman Moon, convicted slayer of Judge Allison D. Wade in the Warren County courtroom on January 13, 1954.

The defense for the 30-year-old Connellsville man presented oral arguments for a new trial in November and then filed briefs. Moon was being brought here from Western Penitentiary today to hear the decision. If the motion is denied, he will be sentenced.

WARREN HIGH STUDENTS who will attend the Northwest District Chorus in Cochran this Friday and Saturday are Ann Putnam, Shirley Fowler, David Greenlund, Stanley Lindberg, Henry Lanman, Ray Bennett, Jim Mathis and Fred Danielson. They will be accompanied by Carroll Fowler, a cappella choir director.

The concerts will start at 8 p. m. both evenings under the baton of Austin Truitt, of the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N. Y.

STOCKHOLDERS of the Warren National Bank met Tuesday and elected the following officers: C. J. Crary, chairman of the board; William S. Clark, vice president and chairman, executive committee; Albert L. Rasmussen, president; Donald C. Smith, Allen M. Gibson, Neil D. Paterson, vice presidents; Elmer T. Lundahl, vice president and secretary; Glenn E. Stone, vice president and trust officer; Edward C. Rasmussen, trust officer.

WARREN RETAILERS met this week and adopted a 12 month store hour policy and sales promotion schedule. A sales promotion and store hours calendar will now be printed by the committee in charge and distributed to local retailers.

FIELD EXECUTIVE. Approval to start negotiations and hire a field scout executive was given by the executive board of the Chief Cornplanter Boy Scout Council when it met this week.

A report from Elmer Morgan, scout executive, showed that approximately $4000 of the money necessary for the salary and expenses that would be incurred was on hand or anticipated. It was also pointed out that $2000 of this money was received in a special gift designated for this purpose.

Among other items of business the board extended permission for eight Explorer scouts and their leaders to participate in the presidential inauguration on January 21.

SNAG HOLD-UP MAN. Warren police apprehended a 25-year-old Warren man Tuesday evening after he held up the Friendly Dinor at Pennsylvania ave. and Laurel st. and then decided there was not enough cash to bother with and took off.

Picked up shortly after by police officers was Donald Edward Wood, 304 Union st. He was arraigned Wednesday afternoon, entered a plea of guilty, and was placed in the county jail to await the next term of court.

Wood entered the dinor shortly before 11 p. m. and pulled a revolver on the manager, Mrs. Ella Robinson, 418 Laurel st., who was alone at the time. When Mrs. Robinson opened the cash register and told the hold-up man to take what he wanted, he decided there was not enough loot worth bothering with and ran out.

With Mrs. Robinson's help, officers soon traced Wood to his home where he turned over the gun and clothing after being questioned. The gun, his shoes and clothing had been hidden.

Wood was baby sitting at the time while his wife was working.

A WORTHLESS CHECK passer wanted in Warren on a false pretense charge was picked up in Lubbock, Texas, Saturday and will be returned here next week by authorities. He is Ernest A. Smith.

The accused was found out when he purchased a car from a local auto dealer just after the first of the year and the check used for the first payment bounced. Leaving Saturday for Texas to return Smith and the car are Police Chief Mike Evan and Sheriff Larry E. Linder.

SURPLUS FOOD. According to an announcement by the county commissioners, surplus food will be distributed at the usual places in Warren County next Wednesday.

FIVE SHORT. The Warren blood bank fell five short of its usual 150 pint quota Wednesday when the Red Cross bloodmobile visited here.

A RECKLESS DRIVING charge was placed against William Z. Carlino, Warren-Kinzua rd., after he skidded into a parked car at Fourth and Hickory streets at 11:06 a. m. Friday. The parked auto was owned by Sally Watt, 7 Alson st., Warren. Damage to both vehicles amounted to nearly $300.

OVER $500 DAMAGE was caused at the intersection of Fifth ave. and East st. Saturday afternoon when David J. VanNort, Pleasant twp., ran into an auto operated by Mildred I. Maher, 405 Water st., Warren. The Pleasant man was proceeding south on East and the other driver west on Fifth when the incident occurred.

MISHAP. Fourth ave. and Hickory st. was the scene of a two-car mishap at 6:50 a. m. Wednesday when James T. Brecht, North Warren, turned into the path of a car driven by Theresa Milford, Kane. The two were travelling in opposite directions.

INVESTIGATION of several accidents was made by state police during the past week. At 4:20 p. m. Sunday, one mile east of Warren on Route 6, Paul McClain, 723 Fourth ave., Warren, ran into Grover Winch, Westfield, N. Y., as the latter turned left in front of the oncoming car to enter a driveway. Damage was $700.

Cars operated by Raymond Rath, R. D. 2, Warren, and Richard Capel, 558 Crescent pk., Warren, collided at 5:10 p. m. last Thursday a mile and a half west of here on Route 6. It was reported that both were proceeding east when Rath attempted to turn and was hit on the side. About $650 damage was caused.

Jay Robbins, Greentown, and Raymond L. Fales, Youngsville, were implicated in a minor occurrence near Youngsville on Friday.

PITTSFIELD BOY HURT. A 13-year-old Pittsfield boy, William Clough, was rushed to Warren General Hospital with a broken right leg early Tuesday evening after being struck by a car operated by Joseph Kubecki, also of Pittsfield.

The youngster was pulling his sled along the highway and apparently ran out in front of the car.

FOUR PERSONS were injured at 9:08 a. m. Wednesday when a car driven by Raymond Shank, R. D. 2, Titusville, failed to negotiate a curve on Pennsylvania ave., W., and ran into a tank at the Warren Concrete Works. The driver stated he lost control when his steering started to fail.

The operator suffered lacerations about the face, while Shirley Shank had a laceration of the right leg, and Mrs. Elsie Shank a cut on the nose. Another passenger, Marian Sterrett, Titusville, received a fractured right hip.

Damage to the car was estimated at $300.

DESTROYED. Angle's Restaurant, Sheffield, was completely destroyed by a fire of an unknown origin that broke out early Sunday morning.

While there has been no estimated loss made by the family, the two-story frame structure, the equipment and furnishings were all lost in the blaze.

Occupying the upstairs apartment in the building at the time were Mrs. Emma Angle, who discovered smoke about 2 a. m., and her son, William, the owners. Both escaped. Pictured here is the gutted restaurant portion of the structure. At the right is the lunch counter, a grill vent in the background, with chairs and tables situated at the left.

The Angle's Restaurant had been in business nearly 41 years. It will not be re-established by its owners.

The Whole World Around Us

"Odyssey", according to its advance notices, will attempt to dramatize the "wondrous occurrences of man's discovery of the world around him" utilizing "history's heroes and villains as its cast." A sweeping promise - and that's not all.

"Odyssey" will explore all man's experiences in the world, including studies that hinge on archeology, agriculture, anthropology, chemistry, art, literature, music, geology, zoology, industry, medicine metaphysics. It will touch on all of man's interests," declared a CBS drummer eloquently.

During its first season, the show will penetrate the watery grave of wrecked Spanish galleons off the Florida coast, the art treasures of the Louvre, a secret Haitian voodoo ritual, the preparations of an ancient Egyptian for the world after death, a peek into the 2,000 year old diary of a Roman G. I., a trip back through the evolution of jazz from the field music of the South, a ride with the old West's Pony Express, and a look at the history of the circus."

That is an imposing prospectus and a wonderfully ambitious schedule all right and, before we get any further, I think CBS ought to be congratulated for dreaming such large, unsponsored dreams. However, there's no blinking the fact that the first show last Sunday (CBS-TV 4 p. m. EST), which was a recreation of Virginia City, a fabled and now almost abandoned mining town, was a bit of a disappointment.

Mixing film clips of stagecoaches rumbling through the Nevada countryside with live shots of Virginia City's streets and saloons and decaying mansions, Charles Collingwood told the story of the city's short, booming life from 1869 to the early 1900s when the silver ran out and, shortly thereafter, the people followed.

There were vignettes about the Gross brothers, who first discovered the presence of silver (Everyone else was looking for gold) and who were engulfed by disaster; about Comstock, whose name undeservedly adorned the greatest of all silver mines and who committed suicide, of the passing of Julia Bulette, the town's leading madame, for whose funeral the saloons closed for the only time in history, of Sandy Bowers and his wife who drew a quarter of a million dollars out of the bank for a trip to Europe.

Virginia City is picturesque and colorful enough, God knows, to supply a dozen hour-long programs with material. Somehow, though, it didn't come off. The transitions from live narration to filmed or staged vignettes were a little too abrupt; some of the acting in the little vignettes of barroom brawls or mine disasters was pretty bad; some of the recreations, such as Beatrice Kay singing the old songs went on too long and seemed disproportionate to their importance whereas other bits such as how education came to Virginia City at the point of a gun seemed too short.

"Odyssey" plans to use all types of production techniques - all live, all film or any combination that seems suitable to its purposes. It'll take awhile to shake the staff down to a proper mixture of the dramatic and the real, the live and the filmed. It won't be easy either. If you dramatize too much, you wind up with a costume drama and not a very convincing one and, if you rely on the facts and the relicts exclusively of "man's discovery of the world around him", you wind up with a museum lecture.

I harbor the hope, though, that anything of so ambitious a nature can be both honest and marvellously entertaining. At any rate, the same staff which did "Adventure", including Charles Romine as producer, and Roger Englander as director, are doing this one and I feel confident they will discover the right formula. The narrator as with "Adventure" will be Charles Collingwood, a Rhodes scholar who also plays the horses which should give him a properly balanced perspective.

DON'T DELIVER

Failure to deliver printed publications as promised is charged against Community Service, Inc., of Kansas City, Mo. The FTC charges that high school annuals have not been delivered until months after graduation date. Yearbooks, calendars, cookbooks, and community digests have been published in conjunction with a local civic group, but deliveries have not been made as promised. Salesmen also have represented that all monies were to go to the sponsoring group and even have represented themselves as members of the group. These claims, says the FTC, were untrue.

SINGER CHARGED

Singer Manufacturing Co., and its sales subsidiary, Singer Sewing Machine Co., Singer Building, New York City, have been charged by the Federal Trade Commission with representing that repossessed and other used Singer sewing machines are new.

According to a Commission complaint, Singer sells new machines and a variety of used machines including repossessions, floor samples, demonstrators, and trade-ins. Charging Singer with deceiving the public in the re-sale of the used machines, the complaint alleges that in many instances salesmen either represent that they are new machines or fail to disclose that they are used.

The complaint notes that in most instances the used machines have the appearance of new models and are readily accepted by the public as such. This is particularly true, the complaint adds, when, as frequently occurs, prices for the used machines are the same, or approximately the same, as for new machines.

In other instances, the complaint adds, repossessed machines are sold as floor samples and demonstrators. In this connection the complaint notes that the public prefers floor samples or demonstrators over machines that have been repossessed.

The complaint concludes that these practices are unfair and deceptive to the prejudice of the public and competitors, in violation of the FTC Act.

NOT FOREIGN PERFUME

Three New York firms have been charged with misrepresenting that their American perfumes are French imports. The FTC does not say that American perfumes are inferior, but it believes the public prefers imported French perfumes and has a right to know what it is buying.

L'Argene Products Co. is charged with labeling its perfumes with names that sound French and with advertising Le Couturier as coming from Paris to you. It also has the Eiffel tower in its advertising.

Parfumerie Lido, Inc. has used such claims as "Design created in Paris," "Originated in Paris," and "Spice Bouquet de France". And its perfumes are given such names as La Vie en Rose, and Bien Venue, to imply that they are French.

Harsam Distributors, Inc., is charged with representing that its White Christmas perfume is Centre Fabrique Avec Essences de France. It also has been described as "Parfum".

ANTIMERGER VIOLATION

Gulf Oil Corp., Pittsburgh, Pa., has been charged by the Federal Trade Commission with violating the antimerger law by acquiring Warren Petroleum Corp., of Tulsa, Oklahoma. It is claimed the merger threatens to lessen competition or to create a monopoly in the production of two natural-gas liquids, liquefied petroleum gas (LP-Gas) and natural gasoline.

Warren was the largest independent producer of these two products.

The sale of used motor oil as a new product has been charged against two Philadelphia defendants, Supreme Petroleum Products, Inc., and Penn City National Oil Co. The trade names used for the reclaimed oil or new oil mixed with used oil are "Marvelube", "Superior", "Lube", and "Car-Lube".

It is estimated that 96% of TV homes are located within the radius of color-beaming local stations. It is also estimated that some 200,000 color sets are now in operation. Add to this figure the 500,000 sets which one manufacturer is planning to produce in 1957. NBC will increase its color programs by 500%, CBS is planning an all-out color concentration program and ABC goes into a huddle next month to decide if it will go "color" too. So, it looks like a colorful year for TV - except for one minor item. There will be no drastic decreases in the cost of color sets. The cheapest are still priced at around $495.

BIG SHOWS
NBC's 90-minute spectaculars' calendar for 1957 includes these: "Ruggles of Red Gap", starring Michael Redgrave, Peter Lawford, David Wayne and Imogene Coca; "Mayerling", February 4, with Cedric Hardwicke impersonating Emperor Franz Josef, and Audrey Hepburn and her husband, Mel Ferrer, in the roles of Vetsera and crown prince; "The Great Sebastians", Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne; "Romeo and Juliet", with Claire Bloom and John Neville; "The George M. Cohan Story"; Julie Harris in "The Lark"; "The Sadlers Wells Ballet"; "Maurice Chevalier's Paris"; and "A Man's Game", a baseball musical yet to be cast.

CBS will produce Rogers and Hammerstein's "Cinderella", starring Julie Andrews; "The Seven Lively Arts", a series of programs varying from Van Gogh to Van Johnson; and on Playhouse 90, Shirley Booth in "The Perle Mesta Story", Paul Muni in "The Einstein Story", and an adaptation of Gene Fowler's biography of John Barrymore, "Goodnight, Sweet Prince". ABC's Omnibus was given a 1957 preview in this column earlier. It has since added to its list a trio of appearances by Tallulah Bankhead.

DOLLAR MANEUVERS
A live tv show nets a performer one check. A filmed tv show keeps the cash coming in indefinitely via the residual rights route. Some of the top stars who have held out for the latter and won are Bob Hope, who made a deal with Desilu Productions; Nanette Fabray, planning a filmed weekly series now titled "Sis"; Milton Berle, in a European-filmed series in which he will portray a Broadway columnist capering over the continent for news; the new Marge and Gower Champion show which will alternate with the Jack Benny Sunday night spot; and Doris Day in a series "Calamity Jane".

GIVEAWAYS GOING OUT?
Giveaway shows are losing ground with the living-room audience, even those in the high-ante brackets such as "Break the $250,000 Bank" and "$64,000 Question". The latter was shoving "I Love Lucy" last year at this time with a 52 rating; it now rates 30.7. Some shows have upped the take-home pay and others have used celebrities for contestants. But the audience is bored.

HINDU FATE?
Ray Anthony has signed a new feature singer for his show, a young Hindu with Valentino-like charm and a voice comparable to Tony Martin and Mario Lanza. He is Kuldip Singh, whose name means "Prince of Light". Kuldip was born in India, reared in British West Indies, completed three years of medical college in Puerto Rico and came to the U. S. to complete his medical education. Then, he appeared on a national television quiz show. That was the end of the 22-year old Hindu's medical career. Fan mail started pouring in, fan clubs mushroomed, and the line began to form as agents sought him for tv, recordings and night club appearances. In addition to his spot on the Anthony show, he has signed a recording contract with RCA-Victor.

EX-MR. PEEPERS RETURNS
Marion Lorne, the ex-"Mr. Peepers", will be featured in the new Joan Caulfield series, "Molly, By Golly". The show is about a scatter-brained dowager and her traveling companion in their world-wide adventures.

JACK BENNY AGAIN
General Electric Theater is filming another half-hour comedy featuring Jack Benny. Named "A Good and Faithful Servant", it will be used later in the season. This is Benny's third such TV-venture.

DIAL SPINNERS
EDDIE CANTOR will be feted on the Jackie Gleason show Saturday night. "At Sixty-Five" will be a birthday salute to the banjo-eyed comedian. Gleason will still be on vacation and the well-wishing will be done by George Burns and Gracie Allen, Ralph Edwards, George Jessel, Red Skelton, Eddie Fisher, Marilyn Cantor, Burt Lancaster, Edward R. Murrow, and Connie Russel. The voices of Al Jolson and Will Rogers will also be heard.

SATURDAY PLAYHOUSE will feature "Dragonwyck" starring Gene Tierney, Walter Huston, Vincent Price, Anne Revere and Spring Byington. As we remember the movie, morbid but exciting.

JACK BENNY's Sunday night show, coming up, was actually filmed last summer in Rome. In the program, Jack (much impressed by the culture of the famous city of Rome) signs an opera singer to an exclusive contract and gets more than he bargains for.

ED SULLIVAN will have on his Sunday night show a live scene from the Broadway play, "Uncle Willie" with Menasha Skulnik. Also featured will be Kate Smith, Imogene Coca, South American chanteuse Fernanda Montel, the Ballet Basque, a company of thirty singers, dancers and musicians from France.

GREER GARSON will be on the GE Theater Sunday night in "The Earring", the story of the attractive and devoted wife of a wealthy lawyer who becomes involved in blackmail and murder.

NO CHANGE in the Playhouse 90 story this evening, but a different name. It will be called The Ninth Day instead of Mr. and Mrs. McAdam. The cast also is unchanged.

POLICE SAY the Big Story angle on the Tidioute bank robbery will be that a newsman helped free the defendant. The defendant in the case was tried last October and found not guilty. We suspect that the story will be to the effect that an area newspaper asked for witnesses who could testify that the defendant was seen elsewhere on the day of the robbery.

IN COLOR will be found the BOING BOING SHOW, the fascinating cartoon feature seen every Sunday on channel 4, 5:30 (CBS). It will be brightened up on January 13, 20, and 27.

TELEVISION SETS can be seen in 82 per cent of Pennsylvania's homes. The number of residences so equipped is 2,629,320.

80,000 LETTERS were received by the Red Cross in ten days as a result of the Hungarian Relief appeal made by Tennessee Ernie Ford. All the states responded to his appeal for at least one cent to "Operation Pennypenny". The first 31,000 letters contained $11,000. The appeal is continuing through January.

TO FOREIGN CLIMES will go some NBC radio station newsmen.

The network has established the Earl Godwin Memorial Award, in memory of the famous NBC newsmen. The station newsmen who does the best job of covering a story during the year will be sent to the country of his choice where he will serve with NBC newsmen as a foreign correspondent.

WAR AND PEACE will make its operatic premiere in America Sunday when it will be seen and heard on NBC, 1:30 to 4 p. m. The WJAC schedule looks a little abbreviated. WBUF probably will have the complete show. Another good reason for having it on the area lines.

HUNTING SEASONS

Tentative dates for 1957 hunting seasons were picked at a meeting of the Pennsylvania Game commission last Friday. It also elected C. Elwood Huffman, of Marshall's Creek, president. Dewey H. Miller of Bedford was named secretary.

The small game season probably will open October 26. But the season on wild turkeys, grouse, and squirrels may start a week earlier as was done last fall. This decision will await the results of winter survival and spring production studies.

The archers will be let loose on October 1, and the gunmen will go after bucks on December 2. If there is a doe season it will start December 16.

Bears will be legal game on November 25, and snowshoe hares on December 28. These early dates annually are released to help those hunters who like to plan their vacations. Usually they hold up unless unusual conditions affect the game supply.

KEEP 'EM ALIVE

Not long ago they were yours to kill. Now they are yours to keep alive. Game in the forests is in for a tough winter. Food supply is low due to the unseasonal weather we had in 1956. Frosts in May and June killed the wild cherry and nut crop, and harmed many other kinds of natural food.

Corn is being placed in wild turkey areas, and all hunters are urged to help in the work of the clubs who assist the Commission in this effort to keep the game alive. Sportsmen can do more than haul feed. They also can report game. There is a chance you know of a flock which has escaped the notice of game wardens.

Those who have hunting camps can perform a double service. They can build feeders, which not only will help the game, but will keep the birds and animals in the area of the camp.

What you feed this winter will be there to produce more in the spring, and all will be present when you look down the barrel in the fall.

ALL PAID UP

A contrite lady hunter from Pittsburgh finally has paid her debt to the hunting society. Hunting in Venango county she winged a doe by mistake. She wrote the Game Commission on December 6, explaining what she had done and enclosing $20. She didn't sign her name. Said she was afraid they would come and get her 'cause she was a woman. She also said she would pay the other five when she got it.

She apparently has got it. The Commission now has another letter, enclosing $5, and a note saying she hopes it makes restitution and she is sorry. But she still has not signed her name.

When you contrast this with some who deliberately violate the law and make no effort to pay the penalty it makes you wonder how some deadbeats feel when they read such reports.

WINDOW CRASHERS

Carnegie ladies had a startling afternoon last fall. One lady found a deer standing in her living room. Before she could find enough breath to summon her husband with a scream, the deer had taken off--straight through the picture window.

About the same time in the same town another lady heard a crash downstairs. She went below to check, opened an inside door and looked a large deer squarely in the eye. Before the noise of the door she immediately slammed had quieted, another crash was heard. It was the deer going through the kitchen window. But she didn't learn about it until later. She was hiding in the bedroom.

DEADLINE SOON

Your 1956 dog license soon will be obsolete. The deadline is January 15. The 1957 models are on sale in the county treasurer's office.

AVAILABLE

Another kind of license also is available at the treasurer's office. The 1957 fishing tags have arrived.
